

PUBLISHED LANDMARKS - CROSS-REFERENCE

This list of landmarks is meant to help the Loremaster improvise when players head to a location or seek an objective of their own, and you need to grab a landmark that fits their aim on the fly. Moria, Rivendell, and Lórien are not included since their landmarks are fixed to their locations and roles in the story, but everything else can be transplanted to other locations and purposes with minimal effort, so locations are not emphasized.

Key: RotLR: Ruins of the Lost Realm; TftLL: Tales from the Lone-lands; RotTR: Realms of the Three Rings

By Title

Amon Guruthos (TftLL p102): A haunted hill and site of ancient rites; an undead dragon.

The Fields of Slaughter (RotLR p85): The battlefields of Deadman's Dike, Fornost, haunted by the slain.

Fort Arlas (RotLR p109): An abandoned Ranger fort near the Ettenmoors; spiders and Hill-men.

The Fortress of Garth Tauron (TftLL p64): Old fortress turned prison in Tharbad.

The Haunted Isle (TftLL p33): Ruins of Beleriand, Lossoth, angry spirits on an ancient island.

The Hidden Valley (TftLL p16): An old farm in Bree-land now taken over by hungry trolls.

The Hill of the Sleeper (RotLR p94): A Dwarf-made hall lost in Swanfleet; a slumbering Noldo Elf-maid.

The Hollow Wood (RotTR p111): Elf-caves hidden in a forest, abandoned due to a stunted Dragon.

The Isle of the Sorceress (RotTR p115):

Mount Gram (RotLR p101): An Orc-stronghold in the north, which once did war with the Hobbits.

The Old Dwarf-Mines (RotLR p52): Abandoned Dwarf-hall in the far north with connections to Arvedui.

Ost Breniellin (RotTR p80): Northern Elven outpost held by the remains of Fëanor's lineage.

The Palace of the Sea-Birds (RotTR p84): Island-perched Elven ruins now ruled by sea-birds.

The Queen's Hall (RotLR p79): The realm and court of a young upstart 'queen' of a small town on the coast.

The Ranger-Haven (RotLR p114): The dwellings and fastnesses of the Dúnedain in the Angle.

Rath Sereg (TftLL p84): Angmar fortress occupied by orcs holding Dwarf captives.

The Ruined Tower (TftLL p49): Númenórean fort now occupied by bandits and a Gandalf impersonator.

The Ruins of Dwarferry (RotTR p105): Ruins of a Dwarf settlement and ferry supporting Moria.

Sennas Gaer (TftLL p96): Ruins in which one of the Avari Elves watch the path to an ancient horror.

The Shrouded Islets (RotLR p70): Islands amid Lake Nenuial; trapped Rangers, a submarine terror.

The Singing Stones (RotTR p108): Ancient ruins of an Elf craftsman, now a place of memories.

Star of the Mist (TOR p223): Haunted ruins of an Arnorian tower. Bandits; lost tribe of Dwarves.

Tindailin (RotLR p74): A former Elven refuge, touched by darkness, with an ancient ruby, near Sarn Ford.

The Tree of Sorrow (RotLR p64): Corrupted tree and its cult within the primordial forest of Eryn Vorn.

The Valley of the Dwarves (RotTR p87): Dwarves of Nogrod and Belegost linger in the mountains.

The Wailinghole (RotTR p94): Elven outpost in a Coldfells hill, hidden by rumours of peril and haunting.

Weathertop (RotLR p90): Amon Sûl in the Lone-lands, and the ruins of its Arnorian watch-tower.

Whitethorn Hay (RotTR p119): A farm of Elf-friends.

The White Towers (RotLR p58): Elven towers west of the Shire, site of the palantír that gazes upon Valinor.

The Winter-horn (RotTR p97): Mountain-dale protected by a Frost-spirit.

By Subject

Angmar: Amon Guruthos (ancient cult site); The Fields of Slaughter (Fornost); Rath Sereg (Angmar ruins); Sennas Gaer (Angmar ruins)

Arnor/Númenór: The Fields of Slaughter (Fornost); The Fortress of Garth Tauron (Tharbad tower); The Haunted Isle (Númenórean ruins); The Old Dwarf-mines (Arvedui); The Ruined Tower (Númenórean tower); The Shrouded Islets (old Arnorian homes); Star of the Mist (Arnorian ghosts); Weathertop (Arnorian watch-tower)

Artifacts/Treasure: The Fortress of Garth Tauron (Elven singing-stone); The Haunted Isle (enchanted sword); The Hill of the Sleeper (preserving ring, Elven spear); Mount Gram (signet ring and brooch); The Old Dwarf-Mines (Númenórean sword); The Ranger-Haven (ring); Tindailin (ancient ruby, emerald bracelet); The White Towers (palantír)

Beasts/Creatures: Amon Guruthos (undead dragon); Fort Arlas (spiders); The Haunted Isle (giant turtle); The Hill of the Sleeper (the Ghost Bird, marsh-snakes); The Hollow Wood (stunted dragon, guardian tree); The Old Dwarf-mines (Beast of Angmar); The Palace of the Sea-Birds (sea-birds); The Shrouded Islets (lake monster); The Tree of Sorrow (Thunir, Nameless)

Caves: The Hollow Wood (abandoned refuge)

Cold: Amon Guruthos (trackless wastes); The Old Dwarf-mines (Lossoth); Ost Breniellin (Elf-keep); Sennas Gaer (ruins in the north); The Winter-horn (Frost-spirit)

Cults: Amon Guruthos (ruins of an ancient cult); The Tree of Sorrow (Tree-folk)

Dwarves: The Hill of the Sleeper (Dwarf-made); The Old Dwarf-mines (Dwarf-halls); Rath Sereg (Dwarf captives); The Ruins of Dwarferry (ruins near the Great River); Star of the Mist (a lost tribe); The Valley of the Dwarves (refugees of Nogrod and Belegost)

Elves: The Fields of Slaughter (seeking to put to rest a spirit); The Hill of the Sleeper (sleeping Noldo); The Hollow Wood (abandoned refuge); The Isle of the Sorceress (secret Elves); Ost Breniellin (Fëanor descendants); Sennas Gaer (Avari); The Singing Stones (craftsman's ruins); Tindailin (scouts); The Wailinghole (hidden refuge); Whitethorn Hay (Elf-friend farmers); The White Towers (keepers)

Islands: The Isle of the Sorceress (secret Elves); The Palace of the Sea-Birds (old Elven ruins)

Forest: The Hollow Wood (abandoned refuge); The Tree of Sorrow (in Eryn Vorn)

Lore: The White Towers (libraries)

Middle-men: Fort Arlas (Hill-men); The Fortress of Garth Tauron (Tharbad guards); The Haunted Isle (Lossoth); The Hill of the Sleeper (wise-women); Mount Gram (bandits); The Queen's Hall (fisher-folk); The Ruined Tower (bandits); Star of the Mist (bandits); The Tree of Sorrow (tree-cults); Whitethorn Hay (Elf-friend farmers)

Mountains/Hills: Amon Guruthos (hill of fear); Mount Gram (Orc stronghold); The Old Dwarf-mines (Dwarf-halls); The Valley of the Dwarves (Dwarf-dwellings); The Wailinghole (hidden refuge); Weathertop (watch-tower); The Winter-horn (Frost-spirit)

Orcs/Trolls: Amon Guruthos (troll guards); The Fields of Slaughter (hill-trolls); Fort Arlas (great orc); The Hidden Valley (trolls); Mount Gram (orcs, cave-trolls); Rath Sereg (orcs)

Rangers: Fort Arlas (abandoned fort); The Haunted Isle (failed hero); The Ranger-Haven (settlements); Weathertop (meeting place, cache)

Ruins: Amon Guruthos (ancient cult site); The Fields of Slaughter (Fornost); Fort Arlas (Rangers); The Haunted Isle (Númenórean ruins); The Hill of the Sleeper (Dwarf-made, Elf-occupied); The Hollow Wood (abandoned refuge); The Old Dwarf-mines (Dwarven); The Palace of the Sea-Birds (old Elven ruins); Rath Sereg (Angmar ruins); The Ruins of Dwarferry (old Dwarf ferry); Sennas Gaer (Angmar ruins); The Shrouded Islands (Arnor); The Singing Stones (craftsman's ruins); Star of the Mist (Arnor); Weathertop (Arnor)

Towers: Fort Arlas (Dúnedain ruins); The Fortress of Garth Tauron (tower turned prison); Ost Breniellin (Elf-keep); The Palace of the Sea-Birds (misleading light); The Ruined Tower (Númenórean tower); Star of the Mist (Arnorian ruins); Weathertop (watch-tower); The White Towers (Elven)

Undead/Spirits: Amon Guruthos (undead dragon); The Fields of Slaughter (spirit of slain Elf); The Fortress of Garth Tauron (lonely spirit); The Haunted Isle (wights and wraiths); Mount Gram (sorcerous spirit, forgotten dead); The Old Dwarf-mines (Snow-wights); The Ruined Tower (uneasy spirit); Tindailin (water spirit); The Winter-horn (Frost-spirit)

Water: Fort Arlas (Hoarwell); The Haunted Isle (island); The Hill of the Sleeper (swamp); The Isle of the Sorceress (river); The Queen's Hall (coast); The Ranger-Havens (Cruelwater); The Ruins of Dwarferry (Great River); The Shrouded Islets (lake)